STORY #

You find yourself in a clearing in the woods, the moon shining bright above you. Darkness surrounds you, when you hear a grim growl growing louder by the minute. Your hairs stand on end and your heart beats faster. Can this be... oh, it is.

A towering figure looks down at you menacingly. Its bright red eyes like two big stars of the night sky betraying its thirst for blood. Think fast: are you ready to take down the Sphinx by yourself or is it better to run away and come back later with some support?
